Goethel and Harris received Fulbright scholarships. Beginning in August, Goethel will work in Finland for four months while Goethel will work in Iceland for four months.

Christina Goethel collects a sediment core aboard the United States Coast Guard Cutter Healy in July 2018.

University of Maryland Center for Environmental Science Chesapeake Biological Laboratory’s Lora Harris, left, and Christina Goethel were recently awarded Fulbright scholarships. Beginning in August, Goethel will work in Finland for four months while Goethel will work in Iceland for four months.

Christina Goethel collects a sediment core aboard the United States Coast Guard Cutter Healy in July 2018.